Company Overview

Paula Mitchell Consulting offers support to businesses through growth strategies or consolidation, cultural alignment, profit maximisation and driving productivity. Her experience is based on founding a recruitment business in 2008 which grew to 60 staff and 15m turnover in its first 5 years, specialising in middle tier management and C suite positions in the construction industry. Having sold her business last year Paula now thrives on the opportunity to coach other business owners and offer the external perspective and objectivity that is so imperative to keep business fresh, challenged and inspired.

Paula is also a non executive for a charity called Invisible Cities which helps homeless people train to become walking tour guides, she is an advocate for Women in Business and mentors several aspiring female business leaders and she mentors two other social enterprises offering opportunities for young people to get in to work.
